

ALEXANDRIA. VA SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 14.

THERE seems to be nothing the average American newspaper relies upon with more absolute conviction of truth than the rumors of war, either between foreign nations, or such nations and this country, that are definitely tell. Governments make war, and no matter how foolish the heads of governments may be, most of them have sense enough to avoid its dangers if possible, for even to the victors it is terrible, while to the varquished it is trebled woe. The international combinations now are such that a war between any two European countries would almost necessarily involve nearly all the others, and the result no man could tell beforehand. Then, too, there are such large classes of dissatisfied people in every one of these countries, that the respective governments thereof dread war, lest those classes, after the example of the same classes in old their allegiance that would be ruicous to Rio Grande, published in to-day's Diaro Of stant. As long as human nature shall con- ficial tays: "B and Commercial Associagrant. As long as human nature shall continue, nations will go to war with each other, means avoid the impossible to be foreseen dangers thereof. Therefore the rumors of war with which American newspapers are now almost constantly filled need not distorb the sweet slumbers of those who are peacefully disposed.

EX-SENATOR PAYNE of Onto, who never sald or did any thing in the Senate that reflected credit upon himself, his State or his party, now says "the McKinley tariff bill is not such a bad bill after all." It is by sending such men to the U.S. Senate that the democrats deserve such defeats as they recently met with in Onlo. A cardinal principle of democracy is a tariff for revenue only. Even the late Mr. Randall said a tariff only for protection was unconstitutional. The McKinley bill is not for revenue, for, under it, the revenue is decreasing, but for the protection of the rich mine and factory owners of the North-not for that of their laborers. For democrats to send a man to the Senate who says the McKinley bill is not a bad law is as inconsistent and illogical as it would be for Presbyterlans to send a Catholic to represent them in a synod. The representatives of democrats in every branch of the government's service should be trueblue democrats, and when they are not, the democratic party invariably suffers.

Ex-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND says "all of Mr. Parnell's aims and purposes were derived from patriotism and unselfish love for his countrymen, and that the influence of his example surely ought not to be lost upon those who took up his work." GENERAL PALMER of the G. A. R., in s speech he made in Washington yesterday, said he hoped the organization referred to would still retain the confidence and respect "of every loyal citizen of Washington." Well, this necessarily implies that there are some disloyal citizens of Washington. Who are they? The loyal residents of that city should demand that the disloyal ones be designated, lest strangers attach the odium to them that should fall upon others.

INTELLIGENCE FROM Iowa is to the effect that the anti-railroad feeling among the farmers there helped to increase the demooratic majority in that State at the late election, as it induced all the railroad employees in the State to vote the democratic ticket in the forthcoming report to the Legislature order to prevent legislation antagonistic to their interests. So it seems that again there are wheels within wheels, and that anti-railroad laws are a veritable boomerang.

IN VIEW of the friendly relations that have always heretofore existed between this country and Italy, it would be a graceful act of international courtesy for the incoming Congress to appropriate voluntarily a small sum for the indemnity of the familles of the Italians murdered by the New Orleans mob. No marcy was granted the victims, but generosity would not be out of place to their dependent families.

The Navy Department denies the story published this morning to the effect that the U. Sugar from the islands has of late years been imported into this country free, and new that the tax on that from other countries has a'so been removed, the islanders say they can't compete with the latter, and ask that the bounty paid to Louisiana planters be given to them also, or else, say they must look for favors elsewhere. But it is said at the Department that no matter what is done, no ships will be sent from this country to take possession of the islands.

State Finances. Much interest is felt by financial men in which the auditor of public secounts will submit. This paper, which is now in course of preparation, will, it is understood, show a considerable surplus in the State treasury. This, however, does not indicate any special degree of prosperity.
